Maple Heights Council approves charter changes for Nov. ballot

By Judith Goldsworth

Proposed charter changes regarding civil service requirements for potential police officers and firefighters in Maple Heights will appear on the Tuesday, Nov. 7 ballot, after council approved ordinances to place the issues before voters at their meeting last week.

One of the proposed changes states that Mayor Annette Blackwell has recommended submitting the issue to voters "to provide that competitive civil service examinations shall not be required for lateral entry transfers into employment."

What this means, according to the ordinance, is that if the issue is passed in November, the Civil Service Commission will have the authority to determine that competitive written examinations for lateral (same level) entry for the positions of Police Cadet and Fire Cadet "may be dispensed with."

In place of the written exam, police and fire cadets would be able to complete an application, submit proof of experience and training, undergo an oral interview "and such other requirements as the Civil Service Commission may determine are appropriate."

Additionally, the Civil Service Commission would certify the payroll of all civil service employees to the finance director, according to the ordinance.

The second ordinance passed by council, also to submit an issue to the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections for the November ballot, states that if approved, the city's "civil service rules, regulations, orders or decisions prevail over conflicting state law provisions."

As stated in the proposed charter change, in any matter where a rule, regulation, order or decision of the Maple Heights Civil Service Commission conflicts with state law, "the rules, regulations, order or decision of the city's Civil Service Commission shall prevail over and render null and void the state provision with respect to the city of Maple Heights."

Another proposed charter change giving the mayor the authority to appoint the police chief and the fire chief, and also giving the mayor the authority to remove either chief with the consent of two thirds of council, was withdrawn by Blackwell.

Council approved an ordinance amending the codified ordinances regarding rules of order for council. The 10-page document accompanying the legislation goes into extensive detail regarding rules on meetings, officers and employees, duties and privileges, legislation, council committees, amendment of rules and other information.

Garfield Hts. Council notes

By Ellen Psenicka

Several pieces of legislation were passed Monday night at the regular meeting of Garfield Heights Council. All ordinances and a resolution were okayed unanimously.

Garfield Heights was given the go-ahead to apply for a grant available under the Bulletproof Vest Partnership Grant Act of 1998 for the Garfield Heights Police Department to purchase 30 bulletproof vests.

A sale of municipally-owned property which has been determined to be no longer needed by the city was authorized.

An agreement between Garfield Heights and the city of Cleveland for the resurfacing of Grand Division Avenue was amended to include the western end of Grand Division. One side of the street is in Garfield Heights and the other in Cleveland.

City Engineer David Krock was authorized to prepare plans and specifications per OHM Advisors' proposal for the Johnston Parkway Reconstruction Project. Payment of the preliminary engineering plan costs was also okayed.

Also passed was a resolution to apply for an additional grant from the Cuyahoga County Property Demolition Program to demolish blighted properties in Garfield Heights.

Economic Development Director Noreen Kuban said a public hearing is set for Thursday, June 22, at 6 p.m. in council chambers to discuss the McCracken Road rezoning.

Council is now on its summer session schedule. Its next regular meeting will be Monday, July 10, at 7 p.m.

Entrants sought for Black Walnut Fest baking contest in Garfield Hts.

The Garfield Heights Historical Society is sponsoring its first-ever Black Walnut Fest on Saturday, Oct. 14, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the museum, 5404 Turney Rd., Garfield Heights.

There will be games for children of all ages, music and a Black Walnut Baking Contest with four categories for entry: Cakes, Cookies, Breads and Pies.

A panel of five celebrity judges, including Garfield Heights Mayor Vic Collova, will determine the winners in each category.

The baking contest is open to all amateur bakers. For more information or to participate, go to www.ghhist.org, call 216-475-3050, or Ellen at The Neighborhood News, 216-441-2141.

Garden plots still available

Community Garden plots in Slavic Village are still available at Morganic Gardens and other locations throughout the Village. Plants and training for new gardeners are provided.

Anyone interested in a spot at Morganic Gardens should call Jerry Bieda at 216-570-2455. For other locations contact Joe Linsky at 216-429-1182, ext. 107.

"Community gardens are a wonderful way to meet your neighbors, grow your own healthy produce and is a wonderful place to relax and enjoy the outdoor environment," said Ward 12 Councilman Tony Brancatelli.

Maple Heights Council

An ordinance enacting a new subsection of the codified ordinances regarding certificates of occupancy was approved by council. Certificates of occupancy for residential properties will not be issued for the following reasons: if the property has a delinquent property tax balance or other unpaid liens unless the property owner or person in charge provides proof of being on a Delinquent Payment Plan with the county; or has an unpaid balance for nuisance abatement costs, imposed by the city "that has not been placed on the [county] property tax duplicate."

Special energy project approved

Also passed by council was a resolution approving the petition for a special energy improvement project within the Northeast Ohio Advanced Energy District, submitted by MJ Real Property Investments, which owns property at 14400 Industrial Ave. in the city. The project, intended to improve energy efficiency at the property, includes installation of a thermoplastic polyolefin (a type of synthetic material) roof, and related improvements.

Also regarding MJ Real Property Investments, another resolution was passed "acquiring, constructing and improving certain public improvements in the city, in cooperation with the Northeast Ohio Advanced Energy District." MJ Real Property Investments has requested that the project be paid for by special assessments in an amount to pay for the project, estimated at $90,475.

The property owner has requested that the project "be undertaken cooperatively by the city, the AED, and such other parties as the city may deem necessary... the portion of the costs allocable to the city will be zero percent," according to the resolution.

Also approved were three other pieces of legislation authorizing the improvements to the Industrial Avenue property in cooperation with the city and the AED.

Fire dept. receives FEMA grant

Council passed legislation for Blackwell and Fire Chief Vito Kavaliunas to accept a 2016 Assistance to Firefighters Grant (AFG) from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), in the amount of $52,994, which will be used for operations and safety equipment. The city will contribute a cost match of 10 percent.

Council passed an ordinance allowing the mayor to close city parks "whenever a threat to public health or safety exists," including natural causes, explosions, accidents, riots, unlawful assembly or other activities.

Also passed was a resolution authorizing a change order for the Caves Road Construction Company, increasing the contract for construction of a new salt storage facility at the Dunham Road Service Center in the amount not to exceed $8500. The original contract was approved in March by a resolution of council.

Strategic Planning Committee presents council with ideas to improve Bedford

By Judith Goldsworth

Dedicated "to continuing the growth and development of the city of Bedford," the recently formed Bedford Citizens Strategic Planning Committee gave a presentation to council at its meeting last week on ideas and actions to help improve the city.

Over the past several months the committee members have met to discuss areas to focus on, including crime, safety, economic development, recreation, neighborhood quality of life issues and teenagers.

About 35 citizens have participated in the committee meetings, and the majority of them were present at the council meeting, with committee members giving brief overviews of possible actions in each of the focus areas.

Community involvement and increasing communication with residents and local businesses were topics extensively discussed in this subcommittee, members said, explaining that increasing safety awareness by creating a speaker-based educational series, establishing a citywide safety board and enacting a "getting to know your neighbor" program were all possible plans to boost awareness.

Actions to be considered to encourage economic development in the city include the following: inviting dialogue and brainstorming on restructuring downtown, reactivating Bedford's community development group, developing resources for landlords to market properties and enhancing downtown and the rest of the city, and encouraging businesses to sponsor and support special events, educational programs and creative outlets for children and community members.

"We're going to use everybody's skills to help the community grow," one committee member stated.

In the Neighborhood and Quality of Life subcommittee, developing a new citizens volunteer program was a plan of action, as were requesting the Bedford police department to look into the feasibility of adding a traffic division to address residential areas, speeding and stop sign violations; creating a welcome packet for new residents with pertinent information listed; having senior van pickup for city events; starting a local newspaper; replacing the city cemetery fence; and having the Bedford court system partner with the school district to form a community service diversion program.

Plans suggested for the city's teenagers include: creating teen focus groups, making a calendar of events, creating an advisory board of teens, offering Bedford High School project internships with the city, a mentoring program in which teens would be paired with professionals, a summer job fair in the early spring to help young adults find summer employment, lifeskills classes in babysitting, CPR and first aid, teen trips and outings and teen sport leagues and intermural programs.

"I'm impressed," Mayor Stan Koci said. "Just hearing the viabilities here, it's amazing what you've accomplished in a short time. What I will do is try to figure out a time we can meet and discuss these in more detail... I want to get going on all of this."

Council time change defeated

An ordinance to change the time for regular council meetings from 8 p.m. to 7 p.m. was defeated by a vote of council, after being placed on first and second readings at previous meetings. City officials wanted to encourage greater citizen attendance by holding the meetings at an earlier time.

Koci said he wanted to get feedback from the community on a possible time change, adding that he heard from "about four people and they were all against changing it."

Tax budget approved

Council passed a resolution to approve the proposed 2017 Tax Budget for the city, effective from January 1 through December 31 of next year. Finance Director Frank Gambosi stated that passage of the tax budget is the first step in the annual budgetary process, and allows the Cuyahoga County Auditor's Office to assess the millage for the city; establishes a certificate of estimated resources, which are total resources for the city; and allows the city to receive local government funds.

Landscape company to lease city site

MRLM LLC, a landscape material business on Solon Road in Bedford, will enter an agreement for a 10-year lease with option to purchase for an approximately 19-acre parcel the city owns at the end of West Krick Road in Walton Hills.

The property, formerly used by Bedford as a landfill to dump clean fill dirt, has been closed for more than 20 years, City Manager Mike Mallis said, adding that the EPA and the county Board of Health have been involved in testing the site on an annual basis to ensure it meets all requirements. Rent will be $3000 per month for the first five years, then it will be raised to $3500 per month, Mallis said.

Other legislation

Additional ordinances on the agenda passed by council last week include: purchasing a 2017 Ford F250 truck for the water department from Middletown Ford Fleet for $24,048.56 through the state purchasing program; approving a contract with Tucker Landscaping for city-owned property at Broadway and Mitchell at a cost of $34,002.10 (this comes from funds through the Neighborhood Stabilization Program); authorizing two separate contracts with Simplex-IT for computer services to City Hall ($4,306/month) and also to the police department ($2,600/month); and authorizing Mallis to advertise for bids for the Northfield and Union Storm Sewer project.

Motions approved

The following motions to accept the recommendations of a special Planning Commission meeting were approved:

- Tanisha Lofton, Bedford Heights/Shore Realty Group LLC, Beachwood, to open a beauty salon at 794 Broadway.
- Jeff Davis of Davis Construction Management Inc./Migdal LLC, proposing renovation of an existing Hyundai dealership at 18300 Rockside Rd.
- Claire Heffron, Hudson/The Inspired Treehouse LLC, to operate a blog and online resource business at 689 Broadway. This is an occupational therapy and physical therapy facility for children, Mallis said.

Citizen of the Year

As stated in a release issued by the city last week, Mayor Koci proclaimed Lynn Jones as Citizen of the Year in Bedford for 2017.

Jones has volunteered for many organizations in the city, including University Hospitals Bedford, Bedford Methodist Church, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Bedford Historical Society events, Western Reserve Historical Society, Bedford school programs, Buckeye Trail Group, and has contributed to the Cleveland Orchestra and Bedford Historical Society.

Announcements

There will be a Garden and Arts Tour through the Bedford Garden Club from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 17. Eleven residential gardens with artwork by local artists will be featured; also two bonus gardens. Tickets are on sale at www.bedfordgardenclub.com.

system. The search results provide additional information on how to reach the provider, and indicates where scholarship and other assistance may be available.

With new Cuyahoga County investments that will soon nearly double the number of high-quality seats available through the county's Universal Pre-Kinderergarten Program, the time is right for making it easier for parents to find a preschool that best meets their needs.

CuyahogaKids.org is a trusted source of information that is free, available on-the-go, and commercial free. Designed to work easily and quickly on a mobile device, CuyahogaKids.org can reach parents whenever and wherever they need information.

"We know we need to reach parents where they are, and they are on their phones!" said Dr. Rebekah Dorman, director of Invest In Children. "Now they will have realtime information to help them take advantage of our community's outstanding resources."

The events, activities and fun places that parents see are all entered by approved content partners who post their events and locations.

By ensuring that only well-established and trusted organizations can contribute content, Invest In Children can make certain that the events are appropriate for young children and developmentally rich.

Development of CuyahogaKids was funded through grants from The Stocker Foundation and United Way of Greater Cleveland.

Site-based mentoring receives 'Big' reception at William Foster Elementary School in G.H.

Recently a select group of fourth graders at William Foster Elementary School in Garfield Heights received quite a surprise when they entered the class and saw gaming stations set up around the room.

Why the treat? The leadership at Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Cleveland (BBBSGC) thought it would be a great way to close out the Community Connectors Mentoring Program implemented in Garfield schools last October. Maple Leaf and Elmwood students received their "Game Day" presented by Face to Face Gamez later in the week.

Funded by The Ohio Department of Education Community Connectors grant, the Community Connectors Mentoring Program supports site-based mentoring at Garfield's three elementary schools and community-based mentoring for older students.

With the site-based mentoring, mentors or "Bigs" spend 50 minutes a week with the mentees or "Littles," typically four to a group, in a classroom setting.

Marquis Foster, BBBSGC Enrollment and Match Support specialist overseeing the program at William Foster, said the students responded well. "It took some time to work out the kinks, but we quickly obtained a better understanding of what the group needed," said Foster.

Approximately 16 students at William Foster, all fourth graders, about 10 years old, were referred to the program by the school, then assessed and interviewed by BBBSGC.

Foster discovered he needed to create an atmosphere that didn't feel like school. He realized some students needed a release, especially since the program consumed their recess hour. He eventually incorporated STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) based activities into the sessions and brought in a presenter from Cuyahoga Valley National Park.

Foster also said the students bonded well with the "Bigs."

"It was a wonderful experience for me for multiple reasons," said Van Monroe, a sneaker designer who served as a "Big." "I was excited about the opportunity. I remember how people poured into me."

One of his mentees expressed interest in art, which allowed them to bond around it.

"It's amazing to see how much they've grown. I've seen a change in their behavior," said Monroe, who started mid-way through the year. "They've helped me as well. I've learned since February the world they are growing up in is very different than the one I grew up in."

Gina Wilson, an intern social worker working with pre-K students at William Foster, served as a mentor as well. "I think they really enjoyed it," she said. "They were hesitant at first but they've grown to really like the program, building new relationships and making new friends. They came to rely on the mentors being here."

Steven Hawthorne, a Navy recruitment representative and electrical engineer, has been with the program since October. He said his uniform intimidated some students at first, as they perceived him to be a soldier. But when the students were reminded that Tuesday was the last day, one little boy immediately embraced Hawthorne.

To learn more about this program, contact Samantha Holmes at 216-452-5216 or email her at: samantha.holmes@wementoryouth.org.

Sign up at library for free book program for kids aged 4 -1/2 and younger

Several branches of the Cuyahoga County Public Library have applications available for the Dolly Parton Imagination Library for children ages 4½ years and younger living in Bedford, Bedford Heights, Cleveland, Cleveland Heights, East Cleveland, Euclid, Garfield Heights, Maple Heights, Shaker Heights, University Heights, Village of Oakwood, Walton Hills or Warrensville Heights.

Once enrolled, children will be mailed a free book every month until their fifth birthday, providing children a home library of up to 60 books which it is hoped will instill a love of books and family reading from an early age.

To sign up, stop by the reference desk at one of the following locations, fill out the application and in 6-11 weeks the first book will arrive. Southeast (Bedford) Branch, 70 Columbus Rd.; Garfield Heights Branch, 5409 Turney Rd.; Maple Heights Branch, 5225 Library Ln.; Warrensville Heights Branch, 4415 Northfield Rd. Registration and more information can also be found online at www.imaginationlibrary.com.

The Imagination Library is celebrating its 20th year gifting over 73.9 million books. In Greater Cleveland, the Cooperative will implement and manage, over the next four years, to reach more than 10,000 children with the goal to improve kindergarten readiness in Cuyahoga County.

Free self defense class in G.H.

The Garfield Heights Family Resource Center manager, Ruth Pollack, will host a free Self Defense Class on Wednesday, June 21, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Garfield Heights Civic Center, 5407 Turney Rd. in Garfield Heights.

Christopher Ritondaro will be the instructor for the evening. Ritondaro is a Garfield Heights police officer and a patrol supervisor and training instructor for NASA Protective Services Training Academy.

Topics to be taught and demonstrated include personal defense, home defense, basic strike, awareness, behavior detection.

All these topics and more will be covered. Participants must be 18 years and over. Registration is not necessary. With questions contact Ruth Pollack at 216-475-1103.

G.H. KIWANIS DONATES HUNDREDS OF SHOES

After collecting shoes for over a year, the Garfield Heights Kiwanis Club had accumulated over 100 bags of them, with 25 pair in each bag, for the Shoes for Hope Program through Missions in Motion International Ministries. Recently a truck came to pick up all the bags. Members are shown above helping to load the truck for this worthy cause.

Community police reports

By Amber Weisbarth

CLEVELAND

Felonious Assault

• Police reported a 22-year-old male was stabbed in the E. 65th St. and Fleet Ave. area on June 8th, around 6:50 p.m. No other details were available as of press time.

• Police were called to the 6700 block of Chambers Ave. around 1 a.m. on June 8th for a report of multiple shots fired towards a gold vehicle from a green van. Police found the van left abandoned at the scene. It had been heavily damaged; no one was inside. The incident remains under investigation.

GARFIELD HEIGHTS

Assist Fire Department

Police and fire units were called to a home in the 13400 block of Thraves Ave. on June 4th, around 6:30 p.m., for a report of a man laying in the front yard going in and out of consciousness. When police arrived, the man was unable to state his name or where he was, but officers eventually identified him as a 33-year-old Maple Heights resident.

There were six children at the scene. According to the police report, the children have the same last name as the 33-year-old but the children's relationship to the man was not listed.

The 33-year-old was taken to Marymount Hospital. While on his way, he admitted he smoked a cigarette laced with PCP but could not tell officers where the cigarette or the bottle was located. Report forwarded to the prosecutor's office for review.

Attempted Burglary

A resident of the 4600 block of Rockwood Rd. told police she was sleeping in an upstairs bedroom on June 6th, around 2:30 a.m., when she heard a loud crashing noise coming from downstairs. She said she immediately looked out her window and did not see any person or car in the area, but when she went downstairs she noticed her front door had been kicked in. Police said it did not appear that anyone went past the doorway. Officers searched the area for possible suspects with negative results.

Breaking and Entering

• Police were called to a convenience store on Garfield Blvd. on June 6th, around 3:30 a.m., for a glass break alarm and found the front window of the business had been broken out. Police went inside the store through the broken window but did not find anyone inside.

Officers were able to watch security camera footage which showed two males approaching the store and looking around the area. One of the males then threw a rock through the window, shattering it, and both males went inside the store. One of the males was seen putting several bottles of vodka into a backpack and the other was seen jumping over the counter and stealing several packs of cigars. The males then fled eastbound, possibly onto E. 90th St. Officers searched the area for the suspects with negative results. Will follow up with the Detective Bureau.

Recovered Stolen Auto

On June 7th, around midnight, two Garfield Heights patrol officers, in a marked police unit, saw an occupied red Chevy in the area of Rexwood Ave. and E. 131st St. Police were giving "special attention" to the area due to recent complaints of "suspicious drug activity" involving a red car. After checking the vehicle's registration, police learned the car had been stolen out of Euclid at gunpoint.

Officers tried to initiate a traffic stop near the Garfield Heights and Cleveland border, but the driver did not stop. Police chased the vehicle for a short time into Cleveland, and as the driver tried turning onto Edgewood Ave., it drove over the curb and crashed into another vehicle. The second vehicle then rolled over and came to rest on its side. Police said all parties involved in the crash were taken to area hospitals.

The driver of the vehicle, a juvenile, was charged with fleeing and eluding, receiving stolen property, obstructing official business, reckless operation and no driver's license. It was also found one of the juveniles had an active warrant with the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Office for burglary. One of the passengers was cited for not wearing a seat belt, and the other passenger, 20, of Cleveland, was charged with receiving stolen property and cited for no seatbelt.

Police reports

Vandalism

On June 8th, around 6:20 p.m., police were dispatched to the area of E. 98th St. and Granger Rd. due to a report of juveniles throwing objects from the Transportation Blvd. I-480 overpass. When police arrived they spoke to the two juveniles, 13 and 14, who admitted they were throwing objects and apologized.

The person who reported the incident, a sergeant with the RTA PD, arrived at the scene and told police that while he was travelling on I-480 westbound, he saw the 14-year-old throw a cup from the overpass. He had to swerve into the next lane to avoid being hit by the cup and nearly struck another vehicle. Vehicular vandalism charges are pending through the Youth Bureau.

Warrant On File

Police were called on a report that a teen recognized as a suspect in a Garfield Heights bank robbery was running through backyards in the Homeworth Ave. area.

When officers arrived they spotted the suspect running south across Langton. The K-9 Unit was called and found the 16-year-old hiding behind a garage in the 10800 block of Langton Ave. He was arrested and taken to the Juvenile Detention Center.

Infant mortality event in G.H.

The Cleveland Clinic Marymount Hospital, city of Maple Heights, city of Garfield Heights and various other community organizations are collaborating together to tackle the increasing infant mortality rate affecting the immediate communities.

Health You, Healthy Families, a free community event to connect new and expectant moms, dads, grandparents and babysitters to community resources, support and knowledge that will help their babies thrive during their first year and beyond, will be held Saturday, July 15, from noon to 2 p.m. at the Garfield Heights Library, 5409 Turney Rd.

The program is made up of support groups, hospital tours and community baby showers that educate family members and other caregivers about the basics of safe baby care. Some of the topics addressed will be pediatric care, infant CPR, safe sleep, child seat safety, nutrition and fatherhood initiatives. Various raffle prizes will be awarded and light refreshments will be served.

Registration is appreciated online at www.ccf.org/HYHFMarymount or by phone at 216-312-5640.

ADVERTISE! Call 216-441-2141

G.H. museum open Saturdays

The Garfield Heights Historical Museum, located at 5405 Turney Rd. in front of the Civic Center, is open every Saturday to the public from 1 to 4 p.m., containing hundreds of items from the rich history of Garfield Heights dating back to the 19th century. Admission is free.

Group tours of the museum are also available. For more info, call 216-475-3050 or visit www.ghhist.org. New members welcome.
