Move over, Mr. Edison; young Maple Hts. inventor is only 10!

By Ellen Psenicka

Expect great things of Maple Heights 6th grader Rumi Washington, who was the winner of two awards at the recent National Invention Convention and Entrepreneurship Expo (NICEE) held at The Henry Ford Museum of American Innovation in Dearborn, Michigan. He was among 437 student inventors from 20 states and two countries who competed.

The Expo was produced by The STEMIE Coalition, a nonprofit founded to elevate K-12 STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) education alongside invention and entrepreneurship to a national level.

Ten-year-old Rumi describes his invention, "Gener8r," as a pollution-free system that uses three different ways to generate electricity using naturally occurring temperature differences.

The three components are a camping tent that creates electricity using human body heat, an emergency generator that can create electricity from any heat source (the sun, for example), and a built-in home system that can be added to a home geothermal system to create electricity from heat waste.

Rumi won the Energy Award, presented by Chevron, and the Jules Verne Forward Thinking Award, presented by Pratt and Whitney.

"Rumi has always been interested in coding, electronics and the environment, so it just follows that he would invent something like the Gener8r System," said his mother, Joann Perkins.

She said his first big invention was the "iPlant," an electronic monitoring system for plants that he wired and coded himself when he was just eight-years-old to help her after her houseplants kept dying. He entered the "iPlant" at his school invention convention and won a place at State and then went on to Nationals.

The following year he had more confidence in his abilities and he wanted to find something that could help the world, she said. He worked on finding a pollution-free energy system and for months he built prototypes out of magnets and water wheels until he finally found an antique wheel called a Sterling engine and started having breakthroughs while trying to modify it.

He's always been a gifted child, his mother said. Rumi attends a gifted school, was reading at two, started playing chess at three, and last year tested at the college level in science.

"But he's definitely a kid who still has a child's imagination and creativity," Perkins said.

He said Noah's is the largest nationwide event venue corporation with more than 40 stand alone properties nationwide that host weddings, corporate events and special occasions. Once completed, Noah's will be able to accommodate parties of up to 250 guests.

"They have a unique business model in that you simply rent the building and decorations, but bring in your own caterer and other vendors to customize your event," the mayor said. "It is terrific to see growth and new commercial development within the city."

The mayor also reported that Topgolf is planning to break ground at the end of September on Rockside Woods Blvd. North, with a 9 to 11 month construction period anticipated.

According to its website, Topgolf is a premier entertainment and event venue with fun point-scoring golf games for all skill levels, upscale bar food and drinks, great music and more.

Our View Good, Bad & Ugly

Quite a few GOOD things have been happening in the communities we cover recently, not the least of which was the fabulous 100th anniversary festivities in Cuyahoga Heights, grand Home Days celebration in Independence, super Summer Fest in Garfield Heights and the artsy Rooms To Let event in Slavic Village, as well as the upbeat story from the NPR Marketplace newsletter on the comeback of Slavic Village, "one house at a time."

SAD to see that M&M Bakery on East 71st Street in Slavic Village has closed its doors. Mitch Philstead took over the business three years ago when Becker's closed and got rave reviews for his delicious doughnuts and angel wings, just like Becker's had done. But finding additional bakers became an issue and Mitch and his wife closed the shop to go on to other pursuits. They will be truly missed.

Just finished going through the Garfield Heights police reports for this week's publication. We cut them down considerably as space allows, but those reading complete reports would be astounded at the patience of our GHPD men in blue. These officers are to be commended for keeping their cool in dealing with some of the most obnoxious scofflaws out there. GLAD you're here for us!

NHPD plans OVI checkpoint

The Newburgh Heights Police Department has announced that officers will operate an OVI checkpoint to deter and intercept impaired drivers this weekend. The location will be announced the morning of the checkpoint.

"If you plan to consume alcohol, designate a driver or make other travel arrangements before you drink," said Newburgh Heights Police Chief John Majoy. "Don't let another life be lost for the senseless and selfish act of getting behind the wheel impaired," he said.

Operational support for the sobriety checkpoint will be provided by local, county and state law enforcement agencies.

Community police reports

By Amber Weisbarth

(The following information was obtained from filed police reports and police dispatch logs.)

CLEVELAND

Breaking & Entering

Police were dispatched to the Warner Convenience Food Mart, 4563 Warner Rd., on August 4th, around 2:30 a.m., after a neighbor reported someone was trying to break into the store with a prybar. Police arrived and found damage to the front metal shutter doors and about five slats that had been removed, exposing part of the entrance's front doors.

When the store owner arrived police were able to view security camera footage which showed three males near the store. One of the males acted as a "look out" while two others in dark clothing and gloves began prying open the metal door. Police said the men abruptly left the scene after removing the slats. The camera angle showed the males running down Bancroft and getting into a dark-colored sedan parked on the street. The vehicle then turned south onto Warner Rd. The store owner was unable to identify the suspects. A copy of the footage was to be forwarded to detectives for further investigation.

Carjacking

A 59-year-old woman was the victim of a carjacking while renting a movie from Redbox outside the Walgreens store at E. 65th St. and Broadway Ave. last Wednesday, around 11:15 p.m., according to cleveland.com. The news outlet reported an 18-year-old was arrested in connection to the carjacking. He is being charged with aggravated robbery in Cleveland Municipal Court, according to court records. Further details were not available as of press time.

GARFIELD HEIGHTS

Attempted Breaking & Entering

The owner of the Marathon gas station on Broadway Ave. told police he had security camera footage of a man attempting to break into the store by throwing a rock or brick at the glass door on August 14th, just before 2 a.m. The man was not successful and fled on foot towards McCracken Rd. The video was forwarded to detectives to continue the investigation.

Burglary

Police were dispatched to the 12600 block of Rexwood Ave. on August 18th, around 12:50 a.m., after several residents reported hearing glass break nearby. A resident said she heard the glass break then saw a tall man in dark clothing standing by the side door of a house and said he may have gone inside. When police arrived, they found the side door open and broken glass on the ground, as well as a broken out kitchen window. As police were searching the area, an officer saw a man poke his head out the broken kitchen window from inside the home, then duck back inside and run towards the front door.

Police set up a perimeter outside the home and watched the suspect inside scrambling to find a way to exit. Eventually, the man followed police orders and came out of the house with his hands raised. He was immediately handcuffed and detained and identified as a 27-year-old Garfield Heights resident. Inside the home, police found the living room ransacked and rocks and a brick were found on the kitchen floor used to break the window. The man was arrested, taken to City Jail and held on no bond for investigation of burglary. Police said the man's criminal history showed several prior burglary convictions. The homeowner was not home at the time of the burglary and was notified.

Community police reports Rebuilding Together now accepting applications for home repairs from homeowners in first-ring suburbs

Theft from Auto

On August 14th, around 10 p.m., police were dispatched to the Speedway on Turney Rd. after a caller said he witnessed someone go into a parked car in the lot, grab something, then leave the area on foot northbound on Turney. Police searched the area but found no suspects. The driver of the car was found and said her cell phone was missing from the car. Security cameras at McCracken Rd. captured the suspect walking on Turney after the incident and police were able to get a description of the male.

Several hours later, an officer saw a man matching the suspect description walking in the lot of Speedway. The officer approached the male, but the male said he would talk to police after he purchased items at the walk up window. As back up officers arrived, the male fled on foot towards the back of the building and police chased after him. After a brief pursuit and struggle the man was finally handcuffed and identified as an 18-year-old Cleveland resident. He was patted down and officers found a loaded gun in his pants pocket and the woman's stolen cell phone. He admitted he stole the cell phone earlier in the evening and said the gun was stolen out of a car parked at Speedway on a different day.

The 18-year-old said he was AWOL from a halfway house where he was on leave for prior weapons offenses he committed as a juvenile. He was arrested, taken to City Jail and charged with carrying a concealed weapon, theft, receiving stolen property, obstructing official business and resisting arrest.

Weapon Offense

Several juveniles were arrested on August 18th, between 8 and 10 p.m., after a resident of the 4800 block of E. 96th St. called police to report that juveniles were standing in a front yard across the street posing with a gun and taking photos. The resident also said she heard two gun shots.

After speaking with everyone at the scene and making contact with the owner of the home in question, police found a handgun inside the home. A search through LEADS confirmed the gun had been entered stolen with Canton Police Department. Police also found two spent casings and a live round in the backyard. Charges are pending through the Youth Bureau as the case has been forwarded for further reviews.

The program, funded by the Cleveland Foundation and the McGregor Foundation, provides minor home repairs and modifications to low-income homeowners who are over the age of 60 or have a disability. The repairs focus on improving health, safety, security, and accessibility within the home.

Eligible homeowners can apply to receive repairs such as: installing handrails, grab bars, smoke and CO detectors, security lighting, door-knobs and deadbolts, minor bathroom modifications, or minor porch/step repairs.

In order to be eligible, homeowners must: be over the age of 60 or have a disability, be current on their property taxes or on a payment plan, have homeowners insurance, and meet an income requirement based on household size. Applications from other surrounding cities will be accepted depending on their proximity to Cleveland.
