Councilman's Corner

By Cleveland Ward 12 Councilman Tony Brancatelli

Good news on the Slavic Village homefront

These are very trying times for us in our community but it is very heartening to see so many people stepping up to help our residents.

Ohio Gov. Mike DeWine has made many important decisions that are critical to the health of our community. These include sheltering in place/social distancing, shutting down bars and restaurants except for carry-out, and closing places of gathering (movie theaters, malls, playgrounds, etc.). Social distancing is vital to controlling the spread of this highly contagious virus. The sooner we practice sheltering and distancing the sooner this will be over. Please do your part in these efforts. Wash your hands frequently and don't touch your face.

I had the opportunity the weekend before last to go door-to-door helping distribute thousands of bags with cleaning supplies, children's books and information on where to get help as well as educational material on the COVID-19 virus. The campaign was organized by University Settlement, Slavic Village Development and Metro Hospital. For more information on resources from University Settlement, call 216-645-0129 or visit their website: www.universitysettlement.net

Staffers from area nonprofits and volunteers are shown at University Settlement's Mead House in the North Broadway area as they organize to go out into the community with thousands of bags of supplies to help get area residents through these difficult times.

Our local Cleveland Metropolitan School District has opened A.B. Hart at 3900 E. 75 St. from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. weekdays to distribute lunch and breakfast to all students under 18 whether they are CMSD students or from another school, including those students in Newburgh Heights. These meals will be available now through April 13, and students can catch a shuttle ride

Bedford officials address changes caused by COVID-19

By Judith Goldsworth

Voicing their concerns in the wake of the COVID-19 crisis that has mandated the shutdown of many businesses and services and has forced citizens to stay in their homes throughout the country, Bedford officials addressed the many effects of the global pandemic at a unique audience-free meeting last week.

"It's kind of eerie not having people in the audience here," Mayor Stan Koci said at the start of the meeting, which was available for residents to watch online. "But we all know what's going on, and it's for the betterment of the community that we keep people away from each other at this time."

In lieu of the Hearing From Citizens portion of the agenda, City Manager Mike Mallis and other officials also took the unusual step of answering, in real time, questions that were e-mailed to the city at bedfordoh.gov. Koci brought up the possibility of continuing this practice in the future, even after the crisis has passed, to benefit all residents who might not be able to attend in person but wanted to communicate directly with city officials at meetings.

Mallis continued, "There are going to be a lot of changes taking place that are going to be an inconvenience... and additional changes from the state of Ohio. Regardless of what they are, I can state here that the safety and wellness and the general well-being of our residents, our businesses and our staff remain our number one priority. We will continue to deliver our essential services. That will not change. Police, fire, public utilities, services, those services are going to continue."

Mallis said that the city's website would feature constant updates on Bedford's response to the coronavirus situation. This would include the following information: distribution of school lunches for the Bedford School District's students, programs that the state and federal

Garfield Hts. Council meeting rescheduled

The city of Garfield Heights has announced that due to technical difficulties during the telephone conference for the regular meeting of city council set for Monday, March 23, it has been rescheduled for this Thursday, March 26, at 7 p.m.

All those wishing to attend the meeting can do so by telephone. The telephone number to call is 978-990-5000, access code: 530352 and then "#."

The council caucus meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by Board of Control at 6:45 p.m., and the regular council meeting at 7 p.m. The city is asking anyone who wishes to listen to the meeting to join the telephone conference by 6:55 p.m. to avoid interruptions.

The city is also requesting those who call in to put their telephone on "mute" when listening to the meeting. Any questions can be submitted in advance to your council person by email. All council members' email addresses are available on the city's website.

government are offering for affected businesses, unemployment information for workers who may have lost their jobs due to workplace shutdowns and information for the city's senior citizens, including signing up for wellness checks.

On the afternoon of Tuesday, March 17, the day after this meeting, Mallis did announce that Bedford City Hall and all other city buildings would be closed to the public.

CPD police reports can be filed via phone, online

"In an effort to keep our police officers safe and minimize exposure to the public, the Cleveland Division of Police has taken measures to ensure that members of the public can file police reports remotely," Sgt. Jennifer Ciaccia of the Cleveland Division of Police, Public Affairs, announced yesterday.

Officers will be available by phone from 7 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. daily until further notice. Members of the public are reminded to adhere to CDC guidelines on social distancing if they choose to visit a police district building in person.

• File reports online at <https://secure.coplogic.com/dors/startreport/176231500>

• Report minor offenses via phone at 216-621-1234.

Minor offenses include property damage, petty theft, lost property, theft from vehicle, theft of credit card, stolen vehicle (when suspect is not on scene and no one was injured or threatened), telephone harassment. In any cases where a crime of violence was committed or there is a current threat, citizens should call 9-1-1.

Bedford officials address

Mallis stated, "I'm not going to pretend to have all the answers, but if you contact me in my office I will be able to provide you with as much up to date information as possible on the situation. But as far as how we're delivering services, and should there be any other changes in the immediate future, we'll be open and honest from the get-go."

Legislation passed

In order to continue the city's business in the midst of the pandemic, council passed an ordinance granting Mallis "extraordinary authority to expend funds of the city for certain purchases of goods and services in order to reduce the need for council meetings, and the duration of such meetings, during the present crisis."

The legislation also authorizes council to more readily make decisions of an emergency nature if significant numbers of council members cannot be present during the current COVID-19 crisis.

The ordinance, which is only effective for 90 days from the date of passage, enacts temporary voting rule changes during the declared health emergency as follows: If six or seven council members are present at a council meeting, four votes will be needed to adopt an emergency ordinance. If four or five members are present, three votes will be needed; and if one to three members are present, there will be no quorum and no voting will take place.

The legislation also authorizes Mallis to expend funds without bidding up to $100,000 for the following actions: acquisition of real estate, discharge of noncontractual claims against the city, personal services, joint use of facilities or exercise of powers with other political subdivisions, product or services of public utilities, or in the case of an urgent emergency for the immediate protection of public property or public safety.

Koci stated, "This is an authorization for council so we can do business should members of council become ill or quarantined and we can't have a full quorum here."

Council passed several other pieces of legislation on the agenda, including purchase of a Kubota diesel concrete saw for $29,211.83 from Colony Hardware Corporation for use by the service department; a contract with AC Lawncare and Landscaping of Streetsboro for treelawn and lot maintenance on an as needed basis; an amendment of a previous ordinance for additional appropriations for current expenditures of the city; a contract with Jay Auto Group to purchase a 2020 GMC Terrain for the Bedford Municipal Court through the State Cooperative Purchasing Contract for $24,976.50; an agreement with the village of Moreland Hills for their use of the Bedford City Jail; and an amendment of the city's Administrative Code to clarify previous legislation regarding military leave for city employees called to active duty.

Also passed was a resolution to authorize Mallis to accept the One Ohio Memorandum of Understanding regarding the pursuit and use of potential opioid litigation settlement funds "to permit collaboration between the state of Ohio and local governments to explore and potentially effectuating earlier resolution of the litigation against Opioid Pharmaceutical Supply Chain Participants."

Placed on first reading was an ordinance approving a Community Reinvestment Area agreement between the city and APEC Holdings, Inc., allowing for a 10-year real property tax exemption of 75%. Council passed legislation at a meeting earlier this month for APEC, an engineering firm based in Bedford, to buy the former YMCA facility at 460 Northfield Rd. from the city, which had acquired it in a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court foreclosure case last year.

Announcements

Koci encouraged residents to fill out their 2020 U.S. Census forms, as an accurate count of Bedford's population is essential to the city receiving federal funding.

Mallis said that the city had a new Code Red reverse 911 system, and even if residents were previously registered to receive calls in the event of an emergency they would have to register again to receive the service. Residents can re-register at www.readynotify.us or on the city's website, or by calling 440-232-1600.

Councilwoman Sandy Spinks confirmed that the Meals on Wheels program would continue to make deliveries to seniors and other homebound residents.

Councilman Vic Fluharty said he was always willing to give his assistance to residents, including helping them obtain needed items, and said he could be contacted at 440-241-5769 or at councilmanfluharty@gmail.com.

To help residents obtain more information or assistance, Councilwoman Paula Mizesak gave out the coronavirus hotline number, 1-833-427-5634. She said residents could also go to the city's website.

Motions to protect city staffers, residents in response to coronavirus approved by Maple Heights Council

By Judith Goldsworth

Two motions to protect the health of city officials and employees, as well as residents, during the current COVID-19 pandemic were approved at a teleconference meeting of Maple Heights City Council last week.

The motions were placed on the agenda by Law Director Frank Consolo, who also explained in an extensive letter to Council President Ron Jackson and council members that the format of the meeting itself was implemented to help avoid spreading the potentially deadly coronavirus. He said that the teleconferenced meeting was allowable in light of the circumstances as long as a quorum is present and the public is able to access the meeting.

At the meeting, which was accessible to residents by calling a published phone number provided by the city, council passed a motion "to allow council to avail itself of the full privileges of self-government available in the City Charter and Ohio Constitution, and determine its own rules for the conduct of council meetings."

The second motion passed by council was to allow city directors and department heads to temporarily change the workweek days and hours of their city employees to promote social distancing through alternating schedules.

Council also conducted regular business at the meeting, including passing a resolution to protect the federal Community Reinvestment Act (CRA), "by ensuring that current efforts to modernize regulations do not undermine the intent of the law and its mission to protect low- and moderate-income communities across the country."

"The CRA was a landmark civil rights law passed in 1977 to discourage the practice of 'redlining' by financial institutions, where access to home loans, business loans and other banking services has either been denied outright or made less available to communities with racial and ethnic minority populations," the legislation, introduced by Councilwoman Toni Jones, stated.

Maple Heights Council and Mayor Annette Blackwell "believe that, in order for CRA to continue to fulfill its intended mission, regulations should be modernized to reflect changes in mortgage lending, technology and markets. However, while CRA can be modernized, it must not be weakened," the resolution stated, adding that Council Clerk Leonette Cicirella is instructed to submit a copy of the legislation to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency in Washington, D.C.

Also passed by council last week was an ordinance authorizing Blackwell and Police Chief Todd Hansen to apply for a grant from the Community Oriented Policing Services for the 2020 COPS hiring program for hiring new police officers.

About $400 million is available for communities throughout the nation for funding to hire and rehire entry level law enforcement officers. The grant funds as many positions as possible for successful applicants, and provides 75% of the approved entry-level salaries and fringe benefits of each newly hired and/or rehired full-time officer, up to $125,000 per officer position, over the three-year period.

A resolution to buy two 2020 Chevrolet Tahoe PPV 4WD vehicles for the police department from Tim Lally Chevrolet through the State Cooperative Purchasing Program, at a cost of $35,824.80 each, was also approved by council.

The resolution also authorizes Tim Lally to upfit both vehicles at a cost of $12,437.85 apiece, for a total overall cost of $96,525.30 for both vehicles and equipment.

An ordinance requiring a $150 deposit from residents to use the pavilions at Stafford Park, and refunding $25 of that deposit upon cleanup, was placed on first reading for further discussion by council.

Jones Road cancellations

RTA will continue to honor student bus passes for meal pickups.

Unfortunately, many small businesses will struggle through this crisis, so I urge residents to support our local merchants and restaurants who are offering carry-out and delivery, maybe buy a gift card or two.

Gov. DeWine also made the appropriate call to shut down voting last Tuesday and extend the deadline to June 2. I urge residents who had planned to go to the polls on Tuesday as I did, to call the County Board of Elections at 216-443-8683 or visit www.443vote.com to request a Vote-by-Mail ballot.

Most importantly, we should be looking out for our most vulnerable - our seniors and those with disabilities. Check on your neighbors, call your family and ask how you can help someone in need. We should fill up our Little Free Libraries and pass along games for kids to keep busy.

I suggest we cancel all our public events and gatherings through the end of April while our government gets more information and data on this virus. My City Hall office will continue to be open with Molly Farris and Deb Heyink helping field calls and provide support to our residents and businesses. updates will be posted in cooperation with the Cuyahoga County Board of Health. For more resources and FAQ, please visit coronavirus.ohio.gov.

So in the meantime, catch up on those books you wanted to read, get a start on spring cleaning (attic, garage, basement) or go work in the yard and get a jump on your garden. Cleveland will continue to do trash collection and our next bulk week is April 6. Our trails and parks are open. You can take a walk on Morgana Run Trail, hike through Washington Park and maybe visit our new Nature Preserve behind Mound School. Get some fresh air, exercise and don't forget to practice safe distancing and wash your hands!!

Guidelines from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control & Prevention

Keeping the home safe

Encourage your family members to...

All households

- Clean hands at the door and at regular intervals
- Create habits and reminders to avoid touching their face and cover coughs and sneezes
- Disinfect surfaces like doorknobs, tables, and handrails regularly
- Increase ventilation by opening windows or adjusting air conditioning

Households with vulnerable seniors or those with significant underlying conditions

Significant underlying conditions include heart, lung, kidney disease; diabetes; and conditions that suppress the immune system

- Have the healthy people in the household conduct themselves as if they were a significant risk to the person with underlying conditions. For example, wash hands frequently before interacting with the person, such as by feeding or caring for the person
- If possible, provide a protected space for vulnerable household members
- Ensure all utensils and surfaces are cleaned regularly

Households with sick family members

- Give sick members their own room if possible, and keep the door closed
- Have only one family member care for them
- Consider providing additional protections or more intensive care for household members over 65 years old or with underlying conditions

Little Caesar's robbed

Little Caesar's at 7310 Harvard Ave., in Slavic Village, was robbed at gunpoint on Friday, March 13, at about 9:30 p.m.

The clerk told police two males entered the store while she was at the cash register. One of them pointed a black handgun at her and said, "You know what this is." She handed him the cash drawer and he took the money

Cleveland City Council passes bills to help low income residents

Cleveland City Council held its regular weekly meeting Monday evening and passed Mayor Frank Jackson's $670 million proposal for the city's General Fund operating budget for 2020.

The approval included some adjustments, including:

- Increasing the budget for a home repair program for seniors from $75,000 to $125,000 per ward during 2020;

- Increasing a small capital projects fund from $75,000 to $100,000 per ward during 2020;

- Allocating $200,000 for a new fund to give kids free music lessons at the city's recreation centers. It is a companion piece to a free musical instrument program for kids that began last year;

- Funding for placement of historic signs throughout the city;

- Expanding a pilot program to preserve red brick streets in the city.

Council also approved legislation authorizing the city to pay $150,000 to United Way of Greater Cleveland to help implement a new city program that ensures low-income tenants at risk of losing their housing can receive free legal representation.

Also approved was legislation authorizing the city to suspend payments for six months on any city loans it has made to private parties. The move is in response to economic hardships created by the coronavirus public health crisis. The legislation also extends any job retention, creation or other loan compliances for a period of six months.
