From the Mayor's Desk

By Newburgh Heights Mayor Trevor Elkins

Another vision for Raus Park

The future of Raus Park is now at stake. There is active interest to convert the defunct property to market rate townhomes that include public park facilities with updated playgrounds for children, and safe sledding hills for wintertime recreation. This vision is opposed by former Cleveland Ward 12 Councilman Tony Brancatelli, who prefers the status quo.

What the public should know about "Raus Park" and the former councilman's disingenuous play on the preservation of greenspace for recreational use is that the space is entirely within the Village of Newburgh Heights, it hasn't been used for any organized activity in over a decade, and even during the prior decade hadn't been used more than a handful of times in any given year, sometimes not at all.

In full disclosure, the site is not even used for unorganized activity outside of a small sliver of hillslope used for sledding on an occasional very heavy snowfall. You see, I lived on the streets adjacent to the space from roughly 1998 through 2010. I know intimately how underutilized the place is.

The proposal for Raus Park would include new homes that would financially benefit both Newburgh Heights and Slavic Village, but it includes much more. It includes the cleanup and remediation of substantial acreage of greenspace, riparian setbacks, the construction of a play space for children, sledding slopes and trail connectors linking the eastern side of Newburgh Heights and Slavic Village to the Washington Park Metro Park with multi-modal trails.

If the former councilman cared so much about boys and girls playing baseball, why didn't he once make an effort to maintain, preserve, or refurbish the defunct, dangerous, and unusable ball diamond that sits on the old Raus Park site now? Honestly, these improvements would cost $200,000 or more and why wouldn't Cleveland residents want this money spent in Cleveland rather than Newburgh Heights? There is no running water. There are no restroom facilities. There is no parking. It is literally a field that is mowed every couple of weeks.

Rather than obstruct a mutually beneficial development, why not take the funding Newburgh Heights is prepared to pay Cleveland and invest it in rejuvenating youth leagues in Cleveland or investing in parks in Slavic Village rather than worrying about what Newburgh Heights is going to do with a field no one in Cleveland is even aware exists?

It is time we stop pretending this is 1962 and people are just showing up to use this space; that has not happened in decades. It is now time for our communities to work together for the common good. The development of Raus Park is just one way to rejuvenate the spirit of collaboration. The residents of Newburgh Heights and Slavic Village both deserve it.

Garfield Hts. explores renovating Civic Center; mayor apologizes for remarks at last meeting

By Ellen Psenicka

At its Monday night meeting, Garfield Heights Council passed legislation to enter into an agreement with OHM Advisors to have them present an assessment and space planning proposal for renovating the Garfield Heights Civic Center.

According to the legislation, the city of Garfield Heights is currently exploring the possibility of renovating portions of the Civic Center to better utilize the space available and provide additional safety and security measures for both the staff and residents.

Under the proposed agreement, OHM Advisors and AODK Architecture, at a cost not to exceed $26,500, will provide an assessment of the current space, perform an analysis with respect to the city's needs and conclude with findings and recommendations as to how the city should proceed with the project.

Also passed by council Monday night was the renewal of an agreement with the Cuyahoga Soil and Water Conservation District to participate in the Storm Water Pollution Prevention Program, and payment to the Cuyahoga Soil and Water Conservation District and Northeast Ohio Regional Sewer District for public involvement and public education regarding soil and water conservation for 2022.

Brownfield Remediation

Mayor Matt Burke, in his report to council, said his administration is seeking a Brownfield Remediation Grant for the three landfills located in the city, owned by Boyas Excavating, Kurtz Bros. and Industrial Commercial Properties. This would allow clean fill dirt to be put into the landfills and start the ball rolling for the extension of Transportation Blvd. to Rockside Rd.

Civic Center news

Burke also announced that the Garfield Heights Civic Center, beginning today, Wednesday, Jan. 12, is open again for in-person business transactions. He said the Senior Center will remain closed for now.

Burke apologizes

At Monday's meeting, the mayor apologized for comments to council he made at a previous meeting that he said were misinterpreted and caused unintended offense.

The mayor said:

"I would like to offer my apologies to all of Garfield Heights City Council for my report at the December 13, 2021 city council meeting. I thought I was pointing out my observations as to how the meetings were being conducted and how the directors had been addressed.

Missing girl returns home

Asia Henderson of Garfield Heights, missing since Dec. 3, returned home last Wednesday, Jan. 5, Garfield Heights police said. "Miss Henderson is safe and appears to be in good health," GHPD Detective James Seawright reported.

What I have come to realize is that my comments were taken differently than I had anticipated. I didn't realize my comments would be turned into an accusation. Instead I sounded as if I was chastising council when all I was trying to do was to make my observations known.

"I am truly sorry that I have offended my colleagues and resolve to do better. I did not intend to hurt anyone's feelings. Let us not forget that we as a government body are elected by the residents to serve. I am passionate about the future of our city. Sometimes that passion can get the better of me. I will always continue to work hard for all residents of Garfield Heights during my tenure as mayor! Once again, I am truly sorry about my statements. May God continue to bless our city and our community!"

The next regular council meeting is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 24.

Garfield Heights woman indicted for murder of Cleveland Police officer

Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Michael C. O'Malley announced that a Cuyahoga County grand jury has returned an indictment charging Tamara McLoyd, 18, of Garfield Heights, for the murder of 25-year-old Cleveland Police Officer Shane Bartek.

According to police, on December 31, 2021, McLoyd ran up behind the victim with a gun, robbed and then shot him. Afterward she fled the scene in the victim's vehicle. The Cleveland Division of Police and Emergency Medical Services responded to the scene. The victim was transported to a nearby hospital where he was pronounced deceased.

McLoyd has been indicted on the following charges: two counts of aggravated murder, two counts of murder, two counts of felonious assault, one count of aggravated robbery, one count of grand theft, one count of having weapons under disability, one count of petty theft.

She is currently being held at the Cuyahoga County Jail on a $5 million bond. She will be arraigned at the Cuyahoga County Justice Center at a later date.

Southeast, Parma library branches get new names

The Cuyahoga County Public Library's Board of Directors has approved renaming the Southeast and Parma branch libraries. The Southeast Branch will now be called the Bedford Branch and the Parma Branch will now be called the Parma-Powers Branch.

Library officials said the changes more clearly specify the branch locations and are consistent with the naming conventions of CCPL's other branches.

New Cleveland City Council passes legislation

Cleveland City Council returned to its regular meeting schedule Monday night and was called to order by Council President Blaine Griffin who was recently elected president by a vote of his council colleagues.

Griffin gavelled in the 17-member legislative body that includes five new members, including Ward 12 Councilwoman Rebecca Maurer, who were elected in November by voters in their wards.

Highlights of Monday's meeting included:

- Introducing legislation authorizing the city to accept funding from the United States Treasury Department to continue the ongoing Emergency Rental Assistance program to eligible Cleveland residents. The city of Cleveland was awarded these funds through a reallocation by the U.S. Department of Treasury, which identifies excess funds not used by other states, local governments and other grantees and redistributes them. The city's share of the funds is estimated to be about $2.8 million.

The legislation also authorizes the city to enter in to contracts with various community development corporations to continue the program.

- Introducing a resolution urging Cleveland-Marshall College of Law to change the name of the school because its namesake, John Marshall, was a slave owner.

Historians believe that Marshall owned hundreds of slaves on his several properties in various states, and bought and sold slaves throughout his life. The resolution was sponsored by Councilman Kevin Conwell.

- Introducing a resolution urging Mayor Justin Bibb and the city's newly established "Covid 19 Task Force" to require businesses to provide hand sanitizer for the public at their points of sale and gas stations provide hand sanitizer at their gas pumps.

On January 6, Mayor Bibb announced a new Covid-19 Task Force "to monitor pandemic trends, encourage residents to get vaccinated and offer policy advice to help tamp down the spread of illness."

Council's resolution, sponsored by Councilman Kevin Conwell, notes that one of the better ways to stop the spread of the Covid-19 virus is to sanitize hands after contact with items and objects in areas that have high concentrations of people.

The resolution says the task force should assess businesses and other areas where people congregate to ensure responsible protocols are being followed, including washing hands and using hand sanitizer.

Garfield Heights Senior Center can help with those New Year's resolutions!

Did your New Year's resolutions include being more active, improving your physical and/or mental strengths or getting more involved in the year ahead?

1 The Refund Advance is an optional tax-refund related loan provided by MetaBank®, N.A., Member FDIC (it is not the actual tax refund) at participating locations. Program availability and loan amounts may vary based on state and software provider. The amount of the loan and applicable interest will be deducted from tax refunds and reduce the amount that is paid directly to the taxpayer. Fees for other optional products or product features may apply. Tax returns may be filed electronically without applying for this loan. Loans offered in amounts of $250 (where available), $500, $1,000, 25%, 50%, or 75% of your expected tax refund from $250 - $6,000. Loans in the amounts of $250, $500, and $1,000 have an Annual Percentage Rate (APR) of 0.00%. Loans in the amounts of 25%, 50% or 75% of your expected tax refund have an APR of 36.0% with a minimum loan of $1,250. For example, $2,500 loan representing 50% of expected refund borrowed over 29 day term, total amount payable in a single payment is $2,571.51 including interest. Availability is subject to satisfaction of identity verification, eligibility criteria, and underwriting standards. 2 Certain Refund Advance Loans are available at no cost to taxpayers, however other options include a consumer fee.

Special meetings in Maple Hts., Bedford held for council swearing-in ceremonies

By Judith Goldsworth

Special council meetings were held in Maple Heights and Bedford last week to swear-in members of their respective city councils following last November's election.

Maple Heights

Maple Heights Council President Ron Jackson was sworn in to another four-year term of office, as was District 1 Councilman Stafford Shenett, and Timothy Tatum was sworn in as the new councilman to serve the next four years in District 3 at last week's special Maple Heights Council meeting.

Returning council members Tanglyn Madden in District 5, and Edwina Agee in District 7, were excused from the meeting, but both also started new four-year terms of office as of Jan. 1.

Jackson, who was sworn in to his second term as council president by Law Director Frank Consolo, gave his thanks to his family and friends for their support, and to the residents for reelecting him.

"I am looking forward to continuing to work with Mayor (Annette) Blackwell and the administration, to help improve our city for all the residents. Many things have been accomplished over the past few years, and the city has made great strides in many categories, but we still face challenges," Jackson said.

He added, "I look forward to promoting our continued growth, which is high in the area of economic development, home ownership, including new construction, and the administration's grant success is high. There are many new projects starting this year."

Shenett, who was sworn in to his second term in office by Elder William Tarter Sr. of the Cleveland Church of Christ, Citadel of Hope Ministries, thanked his fiancée and family and friends for their help in his reelection.

"I'd like to thank Mayor Blackwell for her support, during this run, and I'd like to thank my fellow council members for their support," Shenett said, adding his thanks to Consolo, Council Clerk Leonette Cicirella, and other city officials for their help.

Tatum, who defeated incumbent Christian Ostenson in November, was sworn in to his first term of office by Jerry Menefee, and thanked his wife and family for their help, adding, "My thanks to God, who leads everything in my life and leads me to everything that I do. I'd like to thank my 'Dream Team' that I put together, and we ran a race which was respectful, a dignified race, and it was a hard race, but we were victorious."

Tatum said of running for council, "It really wasn't about me, it was about our residents, and I'm here to serve them. We're about to have some changes within District 3, and I want to be part of a team of professionals, with my new colleagues, in moving the city forward. That's the one thing that's really important to me."

"We're on the move," Tatum continued. "Together, with my colleagues and this administration, we can do some things that need to be done."

Bedford

While acknowledging that the ongoing coronavirus pandemic continues to impact the city and its residents, reelected Bedford Mayor Stan Koci and returning council members Sandy Spinks, Vic Fluharty and Jeff Asbury promised to continue doing their best for the city of Bedford, as they took their oaths for new terms of office at a special organizational council meeting held last week.

Koci, who was sworn in by his wife, Marilyn, stated, "I thank everybody for putting me in here for another term. I just feel humbled and honored, and certainly, in my third term as mayor, I am not going to take it for granted. I'll treat it as if it's my very first."

He continued, "In working with council, we have a great council here, and also our administration," mentioning City Manager Mike Mallis, Law Director John Montello and Finance Director Frank Gambosi. "I just want to say thank you, and I take this reelection as a vote of confidence that in our city now, we are moving upward. For so many years, we were going down."

Koci recalled that just as he was starting his first term of office in 2014, "Ben Venue (Laboratories) had shut their doors, and we lost 1100 jobs. And it seemed that 20% of our operating budget was out the window. We got through it, with the leadership of Mike and his team, and we were just struggling to make sure we could keep people's jobs and provide the services that we do every day. And now, finally, we can look up."

Spinks, who was sworn in to a new term as Ward 1 councilwoman by her husband, Bob, thanked him for his love and support, especially during the past year. She also thanked her family, residents, friends and supporters. "Thank you to the residents who voted for me. This is such an honor, to have a third four-year term."

A motion to reappoint Spinks as council's representative to the Bedford Historical Society was also approved.

Fluharty was sworn in to a new term as Ward 3 councilman by his longtime friend, former Bedford Board of

CLEVELAND

Homicide Investigation

On Thursday, Jan. 6, at approximately 11:04 p.m., officers responded to 3900 block of Broadway Ave., for a female shot. Officers arrived on scene and found out that EMS had transported a 42-year-old female to MetroHealth Medical Center with a gunshot wound to the flank. She was pronounced deceased at MetroHealth.

A 21-year-old male who was shot in the flank at the same location drove himself to MetroHealth. Members of the Homicide Unit responded for investigation. Preliminary reports reveal that both victims were part of a group that was driving to the female victim's address. The group was split between two vehicles when a dark-colored SUV approached the vehicles and fired into both of them striking the victims. The suspect vehicle then fled the scene. A person of interest has not been identified.

This matter remains under investigation. Anyone with information is asked to contact investigators at 216-623-5464. Anonymous information can be provided by calling CrimeStoppers at 216-25-CRIME. A cash reward of up to $5000 may be available.

GARFIELD HEIGHTS

MVA Fatal

Officers were dispatched to I480 westbound near Broadway Ave., on Dec. 23, about 9:46 a.m., for an accident. Officers found a one vehicle accident involving a Ford Escape on the right side of the road with heavy damage. The driver, a 20-year-old male, was observed to be partially ejected through the front windshield. He was removed from the vehicle and had no sign of life. GHFD paramedics attempted life-saving measures and transported victim to Marymount Hospital, where he was pronounced deceased.

Child Endangering

On Dec. 27, at 12:19 p.m., police responded to the 4600 block of E. 86 St. for a report that a two-year-old boy whose parents were not home had fallen out of a second floor window. GHFD paramedics told police the child was alert and appeared to be okay with only minor injuries. A neighbor had heard crying coming from the outside and found the child in the grass kneeling and crying. She picked him up, brought him inside her home, wrapped him in a towel and called 911 for assistance. The step-mother of the child arrived home 5-10 minutes later and police advised her of what had happened. She said she was only gone 15-20 minutes and had left the child with her two other sons who were sleeping in the living room. The child was taken to MetroHealth Medical Center, where a nurse told police the child would be okay. The stepmother was issued a summons for child endangering, and Child and Family Services was contacted.

Call Crime Stoppers with tips

Crime Stoppers encourages members of the community to assist local law enforcement agencies in the fight against crime.

Crime Stoppers provides an anonymous telephone number, Text Tips and Web Tips to encourage citizens to volunteer vital information helpful to law enforcement agencies. By offering anonymity and cash rewards for information leading to indictment or arrests, the program encourages otherwise reluctant callers to provide information.

The 24/7 hotline number, 216-252-7463, allows the caller to remain anonymous. The phone does not have a caller ID function and calls are not recorded.

Those with information can also text TIP657 plus your message to 274637, or can submit information online at www.25crime.com.

"Who is Maud Dixon?" Book Discussion

Wednesday, Jan. 26, 2 p.m.

This event will be held both virtually and in-person. Join us for a lively and thoughtful discussion of "Who is Maud Dixon" by Alexandra Andrews. Florence Darrow is a low-level publishing employee who believes that she's destined to be a famous writer. When she stumbles into a job as the assistant to the brilliant, enigmatic novelist known as Maud Dixon, whose true identity is a secret, it appears that the universe is finally providing Florence's big chance. Maud Dixon (whose real name is Helen Wilcox) can be prickly, but she is full of pointed wisdom — not only on how to write, but also on how to live. Florence falls under Helen's spell and eagerly accompanies her to Morocco, where Helen's new novel is set. Amidst the colorful streets of Marrakesh and the wind-swept beaches of the coast, Florence's life at last feels interesting enough to inspire a novel of her own. But when Florence wakes up in the hospital after a terrible car accident, with no memory of the previous night and no sign of Helen, she's tempted to take a shortcut. Instead of hiding in Helen's shadow, why not upgrade into Helen's life? Not to mention her bestselling pseudonym.

A meeting link will be emailed to registered participants approximately one hour prior to the start of the program. MUST REGISTER

Special meetings

Education member Tim Tench, who himself was honored by the city later in the meeting with a special presentation for his many years of service to the school district and city.

Fluharty, who was also reappointed the city's vice-mayor to serve in Koci's absence, noted that this was his second four-year term. "It's a little bit different now, knowing that I've got a little more experience... We have to work together on one goal, to help the city improve, and that's what we're here for."

Asbury, who was appointed last year to serve out the remainder of former Councilwoman Heather Rhoades' unexpired term, was sworn in to his first full four-year term by Koci. He thanked his wife, Kelley, and his family for their support, as well as the residents of Ward 5.

Koci apologized for the "low-key" nature of the ceremony, due to the continued COVID-19 surge, and suggested the possibility of having a larger celebration of the election in the spring.

County extends payment deadline for property tax bills to February 10th

The Cuyahoga County Treasury Department has extended the last day for residents to pay property taxes from Thursday, Jan. 27, 2022, to Thursday, Feb. 10, 2022.

It is important to note that residents will see a payment deadline of Thursday, Jan. 27, 2022, on the bills they received in the mail. However, the last day to pay without penalty is Feb. 10.

The bills were mailed to nearly 300,000 county residents. The funds collected from property taxes provide revenue for local schools, cities, villages, townships, libraries and vital public services.

Residents who are unable to make full payment of their property taxes are asked to call 216-443-7420 or email treascomment@cuyahogacounty.us to make an appointment with the Treasury Department to discuss payment arrangements. That phone number can also be called for a detailed list of options and additional information for submitting payment for property taxes, or visit <http://treasurer.cuyahogacounty.us/en-US/ways-to-pay.aspx>.

Jan. 13th E. 63rd St. Block Club meeting canceled

The E. 63rd St. Block Club has canceled its Thursday, Jan. 13, meeting due to the high transmission rate of COVID. "We want to keep our members safe," officials said. The next scheduled meeting is Feb. 10.

Letters to the Editor Daisy's Ice Cream in Slavic Village robbed, trashed

Hi Everyone,

I'm sad to report that Daisy's Ice Cream (Ice Ice Daisy's) on Fleet Ave. in Slavic Village was broken into last week, and hit pretty bad - thousands of dollars of kitchen and other equipment stolen, damaged and a huge mess left. The best information we have is that it happened mid-week. If you have any additional information that might help here, please call Cleveland Police.

For the past four years I've worked so hard to keep the ice cream shop going with my partner, Walter Hyde, after 40 years of Ray and Daisy establishing the business as a neighborhood icon. As many of you know, Walt passed away suddenly in October. Since then I've been trying to wrap my head around the loss, the uncertainty of the future and the void that it has left in our community building efforts in Slavic Village. And then this happened. When the police and Special Investigative Unit came out (thank you all), one very large, very intimidating officer melted when reminiscing about his regular order 25 years ago - a double cheeseburger and cherry icee - and sighed that, "Daisy's should be untouchable." I believe he is right.

As it stands, SIU is running prints and I have contacted neighbors about camera footage, but my surveillance system was stolen. I'd like to think that we might find the soft serve machine, slushie machine or any of the rest of it on some resale/scrap scene, which might lead to more answers. We shall see. While the future at the corner of E. 57th and Fleet remains uncertain, I am unwavering in my commitment to figuring this out, and in a thoughtful way. Everyone deserves that. But I have to be honest - this one really hurts.

Anthony J. Trzaska
Slavic Village businessman

A member of the Special Investigative Unit of the Cleveland Police Department checks for clues to the break-in and robbery at Daisy's Ice Cream on Fleet Ave. in Slavic Village last week.
