Schools superintendent in Garfield Heights resigns

The resignation of Garfield Heights Schools Superintendent Chris Hanke was accepted at a special meeting of the Garfield Heights Board of Education on Feb. 28, Hanke told The Neighborhood News.

Hanke said his resignation will be effective July 31, 2022, to give the board plenty of time to find a replacement. He said he was "looking at other opportunities" and it seemed like the right time to move on.

An email to Garfield Heights School Board President Nichelle Daniels seeking comment last week was not returned as of press time yesterday.

Hens ordinance passed to third reading in Garfield

By Ellen Psenicka

Garfield Heights Council met Monday night and passed for a third reading legislation to allow residents to keep female chickens, aka hens, in the city. A codified ordinance now on the books prohibits them.

The proposed amended ordinance stipulates that hens may be kept only in a U1 Residential Single-Family or U2 Residential Single- and Two-Family District. Before the keeping of hens can occur, according to the legislation, an annual permit must first have been obtained from the building department for a $25 fee paid to the city. Several other restrictions regarding setbacks, enclosures, inspections, sanitation, etc., are included in the ordinance.

An added restriction on the keeping of hens in the city was passed at Monday's meeting to include in the amended legislation that property owners on either side of those wishing to keep hens must give their written permission for this to occur.

It will go before council a third time for final passage.

Also passed were the following pieces of legislation:

- Increasing the uniform allowance of the Garfield Heights Auxiliary Police Force from $250 to $500 per year. The auxiliary has not received a uniform allowance increase since 2006.

- Purchasing 15 Motorola portable radios for the police department.

- Placing a temporary moratorium, not to exceed six months, on carwash establishments within the city.

- Making additional appropriations for current expenditures during the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 2022.

- Amending the purchase of four 2022 Ford Police Explorers from Montrose Ford at a total cost of $155,530.

- Purchasing three 2022 Ford Explorers from Montrose Ford at a total cost of $100,500.

- Appointing Jennifer Sopkovich to serve as director of the Garfield Heights Community Diversion Program retroactive from Feb. 21, 2022, to Dec. 31, 2023. Councilman Jason Seither abstained from the voting as Sopkovich is his sister.

- Providing for only one council meeting to be held on the second Monday in the months of June, July and August.

Referred to the Ways & Means Committee of council was an ordinance to make adjustments to the city's wards so that the population of the respective wards is as nearly equal in population as is possible as provided by the 2020 Census data.

The next regular meeting of council will be held Monday, March 28.

License plate reading cameras coming to C.H.

At its regular meeting on Wednesday, March 9, Cuyahoga Heights Council passed a resolution that will allow Flock Group, Inc. to provide license plate reading cameras for the police department for a period of two years.

The Cuyahoga Heights police chief obtained a proposal from Flock Safety to provide 14 cameras to the village at a cost of $2,500 per camera and one-time implementation fee of $250 per camera for a total cost of $38,500 for the first year and $35,000 for the second year.

Information collected can be used by police to find out where a plate has been in the past, determine whether a vehicle was at the scene of a crime, identify travel patterns and more, according to information on the Electronic Frontier Foundation website. The data, which includes photographs of the vehicle and sometimes its driver and passengers, is then uploaded to a central server.

Other legislation passed included:

- Entering into a lease-to-own agreement with First Capital Equipment Leasing Corp. for three new 2022 Ford F-250 regular cab 4x4 pickup trucks for the service department;

- Resolution recognizing and affirming support for Ukrainian sovereignty and firmly stating that the Village of Cuyahoga Heights stands on the side of freedom and individual self-determination and self-governance.

Purchases approved were: three new tasers not to exceed $7,800, a Meritech copy machine for the police department not to exceed $7,800, and seven ballastic vests from Pro-Tech not to exceed $7,000.

In a meeting earlier this year, council elected Renato Contipelli as president of council.

School assaults

Several assaults at local schools were reported to authorities last week.

On March 8, Garfield Heights police took an assault report from a mother and her daughter who attends Garfield Heights

Middle School. According to the police report, the mother was notified by the school that her daughter had been assaulted by another student while in the gym locker room. The victim had her back turned when the other student came up to her from behind and started hitting and punching her. No injuries were reported.

An incident at Maple Leaf Elementary School, as reported to Garfield Heights police, took place on March 9. An officer was dispatched to Marymount Hospital Emergency Department for an assault report. The victim's mother told police her 4th grade son was assaulted by another 4th grader, according to the police report filed. She said her son was playing at recess when a classmate punched him in the stomach.

herself, according to the police report. Video of the assault was turned over to the police.

On Thursday, March 10, at 7:56 a.m., a 13-year-old girl was stabbed in the cheek and neck at Holy Name Elementary School, 8328 Broadway Ave., according to Cleveland police. The girl was transported to MetroHealth Medical Center. A suspect is in custody. The Plain Dealer reported the suspect is a fifth grader at the school and the victim is an eighth grader.

Nominations being accepted for first Karakul Literacy Award

To honor those organizations that are promoting literacy in the community, The Literacy Cooperative is proud to announce the establishment of the Kurt Karakul Literacy Award.

Each year one winner will be recognized and will receive a $20,000 cash prize to support their efforts.

"This Kurt Karakul Literacy Award is designed to encourage the next generation of literacy advocates while at the same time honoring a man who has made such a profound impact on our children and our community," said Robert Paponetti, president and CEO of The Literacy Cooperative.

For decades Kurt Karakul has been a leading voice for literacy in the community. As president and executive director of the Third Federal Foundation, Karakul was instrumental in helping design a cradle-to-career program called Slavic Village P-16. This initiative increased the number of quality pre-K seats tenfold and significantly raised the percentage of third graders passing the standardized reading test.

"It is a great honor to have this award named after me," Karakul explains. "But the gains we've made have been a community effort. Over the course of my career, I have been honored to work alongside many visionary and passionate people who have made a lasting impact on us all."

Nominations are being accepted through April 12, 2022, with the winner being announced at The Literacy Cooperative's annual Read Across America Celebration on May 25, 2022. To learn more about the Kurt Karakul Literacy Award or to nominate a candidate, go to <https://www.literacycooperative.org/kurt-karakul-literacy-award/>
